

Without Our Help
Kimbo Tippett

The pages of history are drenched in blood.
How many trusting souls have been killed
By the kings they loved?
The armies that they use to oppress us
are made up of our boys.
The scientists and police forces
Are their little toys.

Well, they couldn't have done it without our help.
They couldn't have done it all by themselves.
First they had to steal the wealth
Making all their moves in stealth.
Turn yourself against yourself
Even weaponize your health.
They couldn't have done it without our help.
They couldn't have done it all by themselves.

The sound-track of this poor planet is filled with screams.
How many of us have been killed by our own kings?
How many have been killed for the songs they sang?
How many are locked away for the thoughts they think?
Way too many of us for one man to control.
They need a lot of helpers:
The ones willing to sell their souls.

Well, they couldn't have done it without our help.
They couldn't have done it all by themselves.
First they had to steal our wealth
Making all their moves in stealth.
Turn yourself against yourself
Even weaponize your health.
Lead us all to trust their word.
Operation Mockingbird.
MK-Ultra — Paperclip
Without our help, they all would slip.
They couldn't have done it without our help.
They couldn't have done it all by themselves.
