

Got to Love the Children

Kimbo Tippet

If you're lucky enough to have a child in your house,
You've been given a gift. You've been given a chance.
Better give thanks. Better take a right stance.

Got to love the children. If you don't, there's something wrong with you.
Got to love the children. Listen up. What I say is true.
Got to love the children. There are more important things than wealth.
Got to love the children. If you don't agree, you better check yourself.

Some people think the children are to be used.
This is the world of the wicked and confused.

Got to love the children. Children haven't done no one no harm.
Got to love the children. Their abusers need to buy the farm.
Got to love the children. Children come into the world pure good.
Got to love the children. Better treat them like you know you should.

What should be done with those who hurt the kids?
The Prince of Peace showed us all how to get rid
Of any psychopath misleading any little kid.
These are the things that we should forbid.
A millstone, as heavy as can be, tied around the neck and cast into the sea.

Got to love the children. Protecting them is paramount.
Got to love the children. Worth more than anyone can count.
Got to love the children. The tiny ones are all the best.
Got to love the children. We give the predators no rest.

Some people think the children should be sold.
These are the ones who sold their souls for gold.

Got to love the children. Real men should stand up for the weak.
Got to love the children. Take the power from the geek.
Got to love the children. Will you make the perpetrators pay?
Got to love the children. Will you help to make it their bad day?
Got to love the children. Is it time for them to pay a price?
Got to love the children. Don't expect the people to be nice.
Got to love the children. It might hurt their feelings
Got to love the children. To hang them from the ceilings.
Got to love the children. Kick them off the planet.
Got to love the children. They're the ones who planned it.
